Information about certificate of non - coverage under the Wlz scheme - Non-Dutch pensions and benefits

People who live or work in the Netherlands are automatically insured under the Dutch Long-term Care Act (Wlz). The Wlz scheme covers hospitalisation and long-term institutional care and treatment.

When are you not covered under the Wlz scheme?

Certain groups of people in the Netherlands are not covered under the Wlz scheme because they are already covered by a social insurance scheme of a different country.

If you are not covered under the Wlz scheme, you can request a statement from the SVB to confirm this.

Who is not covered under the Wlz scheme?

You are not covered under the Wlz scheme if:

- you are already covered by a social insurance scheme for health care in an EU or EEA country, or a treaty country, and
- you live in the Netherlands, and
- you do not work in the Netherlands

You will become insured under the Wlz scheme again if you start working in the Netherlands.

This statement is to show that you are not covered. The law stipulates which categories of persons are not covered. This means that you are not covered even if you do not have a certificate of non-coverage.
